The criteria for visas and provisions relating to the cancellation of visas, business sponsors and the points system are contained in the Act and various regulations made under the Act.

The Tribunal's structure

The Tribunal's structure comprises a Principal Member, a Deputy Principal Member, Senior Members and Members. Who are the Tribunal's Members?

The Tribunal's Members are the decision-makers, who hear and determine applications for review. Members are selected for the high level of skills and experience they possess through a competitive recruitment process.

This process is conducted in accordance with the Australian Public Service Commission (APSC) selection guidelines on statutory office holders. Ministerial recommendations for appointment are then considered and approved by Cabinet, and presented to the Governor-General. Members are then appointed by the Governor-General to statutory offices for fixed terms on a full or part-time basis under section 396 of the Act, usually for 5 years.

The Tribunal currently has a total Membership of 105, comprising the Principal Member, a Deputy Principal Member, 8 Senior Members, 35 full-time Members and 60 part-time Members. A list of Members as at 1 July 2011 is provided overleaf.

At present, more than 50% of Members have a legal background, and many have had extensive experience at senior levels in the private and/or public sectors in a variety of organisations, including other tribunals, and the community sector.
